

2018 Summer Reading Opportunities

Keystone Parents, if you're looking for summer reading activities for your kids, there are many resources online, and San Antonio has much to offer. The following are just some of the opportunities you can find online and right here in the Alamo City.

With the summer vacation approaching, I know students can't wait to jump in the pool, take a trip, or spend quality time with family and friends closer to home. But what if students could also travel the world and continue learning all summer long?

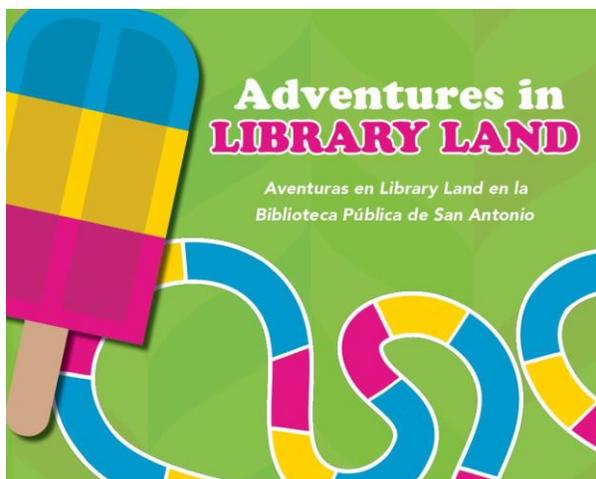

With the Worldwide Summer Adventure - a free program from Discovery Education - your child can virtually visit museums, tour monuments, meet inventors, explore national parks, swim with sharks, and do much more right from your home, the library, or anywhere there is access to the internet.

Each week Discovery Education will add new experiences and activities. Pick up the passport for the summer adventure of a lifetime at:

DiscoveryEducation.com/SummerAdventure

To make the most of the adventure, students will need their DiscoveryEducation.com username and password. See the Keystone Library page and log into databases to find Keystone's Discovery Education username and password:

Sign up for the Mayor's Summer Reading Club 2018 here: <http://www.mysapl.org/srp/>
Or at any San Antonio Public Library location.

Students in grades 1 through 6 can earn a free book by reading! Go to Barnes and Noble's Summer Reading Program. <http://www.barnesandnoble.com/b/summer-reading/> /N-rs9

Rainbow Fish says, "Share a book with a pal." Click here to read about The Twig's Summer Reading Program: <http://www.thetwig.com/summer-reading-program>

Pizza Hut Book It!

Research shows that kids without access to summer learning opportunities lose up to one month of grade level equivalency. Beat the “summer slide” by downloading and printing these summer activities that will keep your kids reading throughout the summer months. Using our summer activities, your kids are one step closer to beating the slide, setting them up for another successful school year.
